6/11/13	[REDACTED] t/c Laura Eckert	Last Tuesday, [REDACTED] started receiving text messages from a Spokane number saying things like: "what brand of anal lubricant do you recommend," "a little faggot," and "contact this person or I'm gay." The texts said they were joking and "we know who you are and where you live." [REDACTED] read Laura all the texts. When [REDACTED] asked who it was, the person wrote [REDACTED]," which [REDACTED] is certain is a fake name. The person uses an internet text service. [REDACTED] filed a police report with Officer Wolfson, University Police, who sent a request to the server to learn more about the number. The officer called the number, and then [REDACTED] got a text saying "you went to the police, I wouldn't expect anything else from a gay boy." [REDACTED] is most disturbed that the sender knows who he is and where he lives. [REDACTED] graduates this week and is moving to Lynnwood June 30. [REDACTED] is not sure how EEO can help but the police suggested he contact us.

6/11/13	Laura t/c Randy Stegmier	Randy says that malicious harassment is a crime in WA. UP will do everything they can to identify who this is and will do safety planning with [REDACTED]. If he is planning to walk at graduation, UP can have plain clothes officers near him.
6/11/13	Eileen Coughlin sent email to Sue	Telecom cannot track cell phone transactions and people can do many things to hide their identity. Most important is for [REDACTED] not to respond and for the University to ensure he has solid support so that he feels safe and can process what has occurred.
6/12/13	Laura t/c [REDACTED]	[REDACTED] is doing better today. He has not received texts on the new number his father got for him. T Mobile and the police are looking into it. He is keeping his door locked and only going out with others. He is going to stay with friends for a few days and then moving to Lynnwood.
